Leadership News

Dear Parents/Caregivers,

Here we are at the end of another school term, and what a term it has been! We have had home learning packs, online learning, students returning to school, catching up on learning and testing, ready for report writing. Wow! We have had gate drop-offs and pick-ups, social distancing, hand washing and plenty of sanitiser to go around. We have had teachers going above and beyond, learning all sorts of new technology and programs, planning for online learning and school learning at the same time, and all with smiles on their faces! We have had parents juggling working from home, home schooling their children and everything in between. Moreover, the search for toilet paper was a struggle!

It has been a challenging term. However, we have done it, together. The teamwork seen between teachers, leaders, SSOs, parents and students has been just amazing. To see such resilience from all of you, parents and students alike, is a proud moment. It just goes to show the strength we all have, when we need it. Our school community has really come together.

Thank you for working with us through this term. Thank you for supporting your children so beautifully during a situation, which was so very unexpected and unpredictable. Thank you for going with the flow, through the changes we saw throughout the term.

We wish you rest and relaxation during the school holidays. It is well deserved. Looking forward to a fresh new term in Term 3.

Greek Art

We have been learning about Greek Myths they explain:

Why is there Winter and Summer?

Where does fire come from?

What makes thunder rumble in the sky?

How did diseases start?

When was the world created?

Myths answers questions! They explain what they think happened in the past and WHY the world is the way it is.

These stories are what we call MYTHS.

What is a Myth?

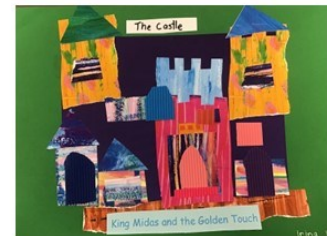

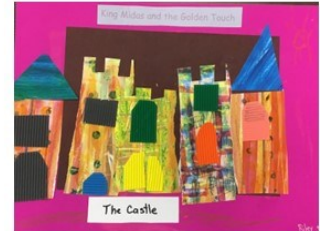

Myths help people make sense of the world. In ancient times, people didn't have SCIENCE like we have today to explain things. They don't know what caused rain to fall from the sky or understand why the sun rose in the morning.

The world was a mysterious place to them.

So instead of science, people used MYTHS to explain NATURE and how the world was created.

Most CULTURES have their own MYTHOLOGIES.

Room 44 and 43 Persuasive writing!

In our classrooms, we have been learning about how everybody has different opinions, but we can persuade people by writing persuasive texts. We read 'Don't let the pigeon drive the bus' by Mo Willems. This book is about a cheeky pigeon who wants to drive a bus even though he's been told no. We decided what our opinion was and then wrote some persuasive texts to try to get people to change their opinion! We also learnt how to draw the pigeon from the books. We hope you like our writing and drawings.

Room 30 Robot Construction

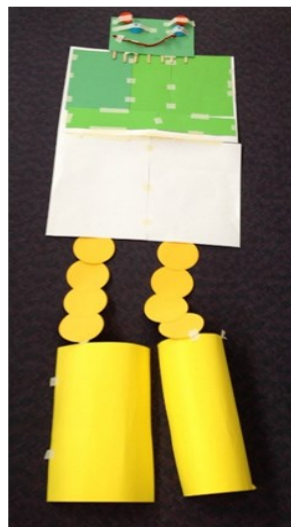

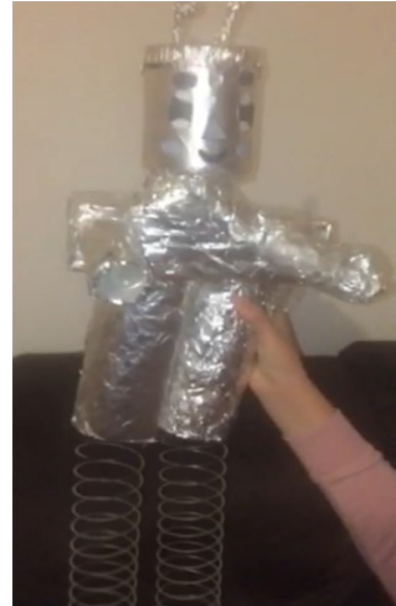

At the beginning of Term 2, students in Room 30 were learning all about Robots. As part of this learning, they designed and made model robots. Here are some pictures and information about the robots the Room 30 students made.

My robot has slinkys as feet. My robot can stand taller than me! It has a micro-chip so it can walk, talk and help pick up things and put them in the bin. My robot can pick up pencils, textas really anything but those things will be lost in the bin!

It is made of boxes, an eraser, powder things that can open as a head. His skin is made from aluminium foil. He has paper as eyes, mouth, eyebrows and blush. He has a button on his back to turn him on and off. His legs are cardboard and so are his arms. He has a grabby thing and a hand with a foot to scoop stuff.

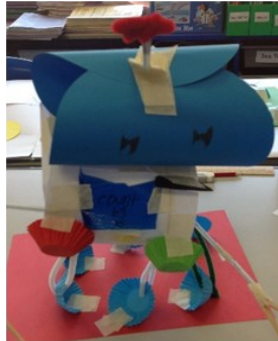

It took two days to finish. One day was finding what to use. The second day was when I decorated him. It took an hour to find what to use. Then a few hours to make him.

Bun Bun is complete she is my robot and this is about her. Bun Bun can make things fun. She can make food for kids. And help kids to solve problems. She can also be friends with kids or teachers. She loves to read Paul Jennings and Rauld Dahl. She loves having fun with others. She loves to talk with families and parents. And I hope you love her too.

My robot is incomplete 😞. I have not finished it because I was trying to make it a little bit too big so I didn't have enough time to finish it. I'm just glad that I tried my best 😊. If it was finished Mr. R would have 2 arms with magnetic hands. He would have wings like a sugar-glider so that if he was real he could fly around outside 😊. He would also have two rectangular legs with big, cube feet. Mr. R in real life would be about 1 meter and 60 to 70cm tall and 40 to 50cm wide. He would also be made of shiny silver metal 😊. I forgot to say that Mr. R would have 4 wheels at the front of his body (on the corners) and one between each of his arms, hands, legs and feet so that he can roll around the classroom (isn't he just so cool 😊)! He could also make emergency phone calls with his mind so that nobody panics 😊.
